EASTERN WAR.

RUSSIANS PROVIDING FOR WINTER—PREPARING FOR THE SIEGE OF RUTSCHUK—RUSSIAN LOSS AT SCHIPKA.

Servia Holds Back for Better Prospects—Mehemet Ali's Forces—Another Reported Turkish Victory.

VIENNA, Sept. 5.—The Russians are providing material for winter quarters for 200,000 men and engineers are ordered to prepare for the regular siege of Rutschuk.

Russian official reports make casualties at Schipka Pass 1,200 killed and 3,000 wounded.

It is regarded to be certain that Servia will not participate in the war until Russia shows a more promising front. Mehemet Ali must have 160,000 men within and about the Turkish quadrilateral. Sixty thousand of these are required for the garrison and to guard the line toward Dobruddsch, which leaves him 100,000 for field operations.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 5.—A dispatch was received to-day which announces that Ahmed Pasha yesterday repulsed a Russian attack at Kudluk, near Rutschuk. The Russians are stated to have lost 10,000 men.

According to intelligence from Suleiman Pasha's army, the Turks have obtained still further command of the Gabrova road to Schipka Pass. Cannonading was going on between hostile batteries in the Pass.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Times' correspondent at Schipka Pass says the Russians have made a fine road over the Pass, which would never have been done had they not intended to use it for the passage of a large army into Roumelia when a proper movement arises. New bridges and other improvements are being made, affording evidence that they adhere to their original intention.

WASHINGTON.

The Government Going Into the Saw-Log Business—The Republican on the Cornell Case.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—It is stated that in case neither the owners of logs nor the government bond them, and they are sold as property liable to waste, Secretary Schurz has determined to have his agents in Calcasieu to buy them in on the account of the government.

The President may spend a day at Shelbyville, Tennessee.

The Republican speaking of the Cabinet action in the Cornell matter, has the following, which indicates that the President himself, the highest civil service officer, is not disposed in the exercise of his high functions to obey his own orders.

"The President, while standing firm in his decision, is nevertheless considerate of the interests of the Republican party in New York, and will allow the matter to remain in statu quo a few days longer."

Gambetta again Summoned—Noyes and Washburne Change Partners—Washburne Won't Eat a Public Meal Before Leaving.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—M. Gambetta has been summoned again to appear before the Judge of Instruction on the 11th instant.

The official journal publishes a decree by President MacMahon, ordering a State funeral for Mr. Thiers.

Hon. Edward E. Noyes, recently appointed a United States Senator to France, will present his credentials and Hon. E. B. Washburne's letter of recall to President MacMahon.

On the 11th instant, Mr. Washburne has numerous engagements to fill, and his early departure has obliged him to decline the banquet tendered him by the Americans in Paris, and also the honors intended to be shown him by his French friends.

Thiers' Funeral—Effect of the News of His Death.

PARIS, Sept. 4.—MacMahon will attend Thiers' funeral at the Invalides, Saturday.

The Bourne was quite animated, and seemed in some way or other to regard the sad event as tending to clear the political atmosphere.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The English press generally thinks that to the republicans the loss of M. Thiers is terrible. It is not a light matter that the republican policy, instead of being represented by Thiers' mature wisdom, should be dependent upon the eager temper of Gambetta, who is now without a serious rival.

Failure of a Tea and Coffee Dealer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Philip Steiner, a tea and coffee dealer, has failed, and makes his assignments liabilities reach $200,000. The cause of his failure are numerous, but, unfortunately for him, real estate speculation is the principal one.

Nashville Races—Fire Engine Convention.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Sept. 5.—Goldsmith Maid against time, 2:21 2/30, 2:19.

The Fire Engineers' Convention elected Wm. Stockwell president.

Another Bank in Liquidation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The Harlem Bank went into voluntary liquidation. A meeting of the stockholders resolved to pay depositors in full.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

Presentations to men.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—After presenting his credentials to President MacMahon this afternoon, Mr. Noyes said:

"I have no great pleasure in bringing to you the expression of the wishes of the President for the well being of your excellency, and the health and happiness of your family as well as the peace and prosperity of the French people. My mission is to remember with gratitude the opportune effective assistance rendered by France to our ancestors who fighting for National Independence, I shall not be able to forget to interpret the desire and feelings of the President and the American people to you by expressing, as I shall have pleasure in doing, to cultivate, strengthen and perpetuate the warmest sympathies and friendly relations between the two countries."

President MacMahon in reply said:

"I am very glad to see you in the name of the President of the United States. I am sensible of the recollections you call up. You may rest assured you will always find me ready to second you in maintaining and strengthening the old friendship which unites France with your country."

WASHINGTON.

Federal Changes—Consultation Over Sitting Bull—The Currency Question—Kenneth Rayner in the Police Court.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 5.—Surgeon Chas. R. Greenleaf has been relieved from duty in the department of the Gulf. Reports of changes in the collectorship at Chicago are premature.

McCrary, Evans, Schurz and Lawrence were in consultation at the War Department to-day over Sitting Bull.

The consultation meets at St. Paul on the 15th inst., where they will receive instructions regarding the conduct of the commission.

The following emanates from high financial authority: "Continued allusion is being made to the policy of France in regard to resumption as being different from that adopted here, when the truth is, that that country has been acting upon the very policy that the United States is pursuing, but France is reducing her circulation much more rapidly than the United States. The bank of France has withdrawn its circulation during the last nine months to the amount of at least 12,000,000 pounds sterling, or sixty millions of dollars, and has accumulated coin at about the same rate. Coin is now practically at specie payments, and would not doubt be issued but for the unsettled condition of the silver question—far more disturbed there than here."

Kenneth Rayner appeared in the police court, pleaded guilty to assault and battery, and was fined $30.00. The Judge does not show any the worse appearance for his recent scuffle. He made a long statement, under oath, in which he said that which was telegraphed on Monday.

The Pennsylvania Convention.

Harborsburg, Pa., Sept. 5.—Mr. H. Armstrong is permanent President.

J. P. Sterroll was nominated for Judge by acclamation.

The contest is over a miner being placed on the ticket.

The committee on resolutions reported the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, 1. That while we recognize and respect the difference of opinion existing among us as to the course pursued by President Hayes towards the South, we are heartily in accord in honoring the patriotic motives which have guided him, and in hoping that the result of the present time will be peace, good will, and the complete recognition of the equal rights of all men in every section of the country; and to the efforts of his administration to carry into effect the principles of the platform upon which he was elected, we pledge our hearty and cordial support.

Battle of the Patent Medicine Bottles.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Albert L. Hembold has brought suit for an injunction to restrain his brother, Henry T. Hembold, from infringing on his trade-mark.

Henry T. Hembold is the person who in 1862 to 1873, he manufactured for his brother medicine named "Buchu."

On argument in the Supreme Court today an answer was given to the doctor, and saying that the plaintiff was merely a clerk and servant of the defendant; that the trade-mark never was in an assigned hands, and never was sold.

The court reserved its decision.

Davenport's Funeral—Factory Burnt—The Pope Declining Gold.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The funeral of Davenport took place this morning from Dr. Chapin's Universalist Church. It was witnessed by an immense throng of people.

Wardell & Co.'s sand paper factory in Brooklyn, has been burned. Loss $240,000. A large number of men and boys were ousted.

A cable report says the Pope's illness increases.

Gold lower than since '62.

Another Railroad Sold.

COLUMBUS, GA., Sept. 5.—The North and South Narrow Gauge Railway Company, sold yesterday to the Columbus & Atlantic Air-Line Railroad Company, for $40,500. The road is operated for 21 miles, and is well equipped. The State had endorsed its bonds for $240,000, and it was sold because of default of interest.

A company in this city bought it and will extend it ten miles. The line was intended originally to extend from Columbia to Chattanooga, Tenn.

Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, September 5.—For the South Atlantic States, south and east winds; stationary or falling barometer; stationary temperature; cloudy weather and possible rain will prevail.

For the Gulf States, southerly winds; cloudy and rainy weather, followed by northerly winds, cooler, cloudy weather and rising barometer.

An American Turk.

CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 5.—The Post claims to have had additional evidence that R. Clay Crawford and Osman Pasha are identical.

EASTERN WAR.

Reported Advance on Plevna.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A rumor was current here this morning of the Russian advance upon Plevna. It may be true, but it looks like a canard based upon Gen. Soboleff's capture of Lovatz.

Crazy Heroes—Captured.

CAMP ROBINSON, Sept. 5.—Crazy Horse, who escaped alone in the direction of the Spotted Tail Agency, was captured at that place last night.

Augusta Ga. City Council Resolutions.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 3.—The city council to-day passed the following by an unanimous vote. The city council is entirely Democratic:

"Whereas since his inauguration as President of the United States, Rufus B. Hayes has shown his intention of maintaining the great trust confided to him in keeping in strict accordance with the constitution and laws of his country, has endeavored to purify the civil service of the government, has restored local self-government to the South, has manifested a sincere desire to destroy sectional feeling, to heal the wounds of the war, and give peace to a portion of the Union so greatly in need of its blessings; and whereas these things entitle him to the respect and approval of good citizens irrespective of party; therefore:

"Resolved, That as a mark of the esteem in which we hold him, we, the city council of Augusta, hereby extend an invitation to the President and such members of his cabinet as may attend him, to visit the city of Augusta during his Southern tour, and pledge to him a cordial welcome on the part of our citizens."

Mayor Latrobe, &c.

To the Editor of the News:

I notice in your paper of this morning that, after the N. Y. Herald style, you dove-tail, between your several paragraphs, calling upon North Carolina merchants not to hold the Baltimore merchants responsible for the acts of the mayor of that city. Now, Sir, Baltimore is a commercial city, and Latrobe, would never have been consulted by Col. Beasley as to immigration to this State. He was consulted because he was mayor, and as such he gave his opinion of North Carolina. Latrobe is the mayor of Baltimore, and, to a large extent, by the votes of the merchants. Now, if the merchants of Baltimore regret and disown the action of Latrobe, let them say so, either by resolution in meeting assembled, or in a circular letter signed by them and addressed to the people of North Carolina. Until this is done, it is mortifying to North Carolinians to see one of their leading papers asking the people not to hold the merchants of Baltimore responsible for the insults offered them by the Mayor of Baltimore; not by the Mayor of Baltimore, but by the Mayor of Baltimore for Latrobe? The Mayor of Baltimore is an existence worthy to be considered, but Latrobe is a nonentity as Latrobe. The name is derived from the Latin latro, the meaning of which is a thief or robber. Instincts on the part of his ancestors, which frequently gave name to families.

Please, Mr. Editor, in your poverty, respect our pride of our honesty, and uphold no people who would repudiate latro calls us rogues! And, let me say, that our merchants can do as well and better in New York than in Baltimore, and the people of New York, through their mayor, offer us no greater advantages than the people of Baltimore. Let North Carolina merchants by elsewhere than in Baltimore, until the mayor of Baltimore teach their mayor some decency, or disown, publicly, his indecency. This is the sentiment of the NORTH CAROLINIAN.

The Press on the Death of Ex-President Thiers.

(N. Y. Herald.)

The most important news from Europe this morning is the death of ex-President Thiers, which took place last evening at six o'clock. He was a little over eighty years of age, having been born in April, 1797. For nearly half a century he has filled France and almost the world with his fame as journalist, historian, orator and statesman. No one in France has had a larger share in moulding her destinies, and nearly all his life has been one long battle for liberty and constitutional government.

His first office was under Louis Philippe; his last was after the fall of the empire, when he brought France through the dark days of the Commune to the present Republic. M. Thiers was the statesman of the very highest order, and his career, which extended over perhaps the most important period of French history, forms a large portion of the annals of his country. His death at the present time is a severe blow to the Republic. He possessed the confidence of a large portion of the French people, and in the present crisis his counsel, moderation, wisdom and patriotism were specially needed.

(N. Y. Times.)

The death of M. Thiers at the present juncture is a misfortune of the first magnitude to France, if not to civilization. For, it happens that the possibility of bringing him forward to fill the vacant place of MacMahon has been the most potent argument which French Radicals put forward for the preservation of social order. The death of M. Thiers leaves the party of reaction free to use with disastrous effect the appeal that the nation must choose between MacMahon and Gambetta. The French middle-class was not easily frightened by a possible retirement of the Marshal to make way for the man who so thoroughly suppressed the Commune; they have neither political insight nor intelligence enough to resist implicitly the ex-Dictator. M. Thiers has been for more than forty years one of the foremost figures in France. The Bourbon absolutism, the Orleans Monarchy, the second Empire, and the second and third Republics have all received the stamp of his influence as a publicist, a statesman, or a diplomat. His generation has forgotten him as the Minister of the Citizen King; they will remember him chiefly as one of the saviors of Republican France. What dangers to the stability of her institutions and to the peace of Western Europe may be involved in his sudden taking-off, time alone can show.

(N. Y. World.)

The sudden death of Louis Adolphe Thiers, sudden in the eightieth year of his age—so full of life and will and fire was this wonderful old man—strikes an unquestionably serious blow at the Republic in France. Old as he was, and unlikely as it is in the ordinary course of things, it seemed to be that he should live to face the crisis preparing for France at the close of the septennate, the general confidence of the Conservative Republicans of France in him, and the admiration, amounting to a sort of worship, felt for him by the middle classes of his countrymen, were to make him a rallying point of hope and of patience. Gambetta, his only serious competitor for the leadership of the French Republicans, was so well aware of this that for months past he has carefully placed himself as it were in the shadow of the famous ex-President, and has fought his fight and the fight of Republicanism against the reactionary advisers of Marshal MacMahon in the name of a chieftain whom even those advisers have felt themselves compelled to treat with deference. So long as Thiers lived, the experiment of a decisive coup d'etat against the Republic and the press, it was as a journalist in the highest sense of that word that Thiers first won, and it was as a journalist that he kept and strengthened his grasp upon the public mind of France. It was his prompt and keen perception of the power of public sentiment and opinion that he first distinguished himself in the race for position and authority with a whole generation of active, ardent and ambitious rivals. It was by his skill and tact in moulding and wielding that power that as a historian and a minister of state he widened the part of Thiers in the history of his country. Like the present Premier of Great Britain, he has been a journalist always by instinct, and has wrought through journalistic methods in all the phases of his great career.

Associated Reformed Presbyterian Convention.

From the Charlotte Observer we conclude the proceedings of this convention.

The convention met on Monday. Rev. Dr. Ross preached the opening sermon, Rev. Mr. Hunter called the Presbytery into order, Rev. John E. Presley acting as Secretary.

The roll was called and the following ministers responded: Revs J. C. Chalmers, John Hunter, R. A. Ross, D. D., W. B. E. Presley, J. B. Bette, J. M. Todd, E. E. Presley, R. G. Miller, D. R. White, J. P. Marion, W. M. Hunter, D. G. Caldwell and J. M. McLean.

Laetitia W. Y. Orr, W. H. Orr, W. H. Miller, and John A. White. Elders—Alex. Grier, Hugh Boyce, R. E. Gettys, J. B. Bigham, Lawson Jenkins, R. B. Hunter, Y. J. Hunter, Alex. Clark, Miles Brady, John Barron, Samuel Wylie, H. L. Elliott, R. A. Cousar, W. W. Ketchum, A. A. Griffith, Joseph Wylie, N. Keyser.

Consistent W. Y. White, A. M. Walker, G. G. Nisbet. Rev. G. R. White was elected Moderator. Routine business occupied the remainder of the morning session.

In the afternoon, Mr. E. E. Presley and Mr. J. A. White, preached trial sermons. Committees on various subjects were appointed.

An interesting discussion arose on the request of the Synod for an expression of opinion from the Presbytery on the revision, made by a committee of the synod of the Scottish session, of the Psalms as revised by the United Presbytery of North America, and by Mr. H. R. McAlulay, Matthew XXV:24.

Brigham Young's Funeral.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, September 5.—An attempt was made to get people from all parts of the Territory assembled here to-day to attend the funeral of Brigham Young. There were probably 12,000 or 15,000 persons in the Tabernacle, which was crowded to the roof.

Commenced at 12 and continued until 2 o'clock. Remarks were made by Woodruff, Hyde, Cannon, and Layton, eulogistic of the deceased, and the great work of the prophet was reviewed. The body was enclosed in a plain red wood coffin, and was borne to the grave by the employees of the late President. The cortege was preceded by a band, followed by the family, the different orders of priesthood and adherents, all on foot. The order of Brigham Young was to the disposition of his remains, written in 1873, was read, but nothing from him has been made known as yet as to the succession to the leadership of the Church or disposition of his property.

When the failure of the State Savings Institution of Chicago was announced last Wednesday the working people, whose earnings were swept away, gathered in front of the bank to water, and a good many of them were in the water. "I had a good farm out in Indiana," exclaimed a melancholy farmer, "but I sold the darn thing and there 'tis—in that star stone building!" "Is that so?" asked a sympathetic voice close by. "Are you really from Indiana? Why, so am I. Yes, I had $900 in a blamed good bank down there, but I drew her out last May and put her in here. An old lady, and she came as her husband's Quaker dress, said that she was alone in the world, and every penny that she had—as much as $1,000, in fact—was stored in the bank, and would some kind gentile tell her if there was any hope of getting it. A more cynical sister at her elbow suggested that "thim fellers out have a big drunk out of all there was in there."

A burly fellow, with a face like a bull dog's and with forearms buried in his breeches-pockets, elbowed his way through the crowd and swore at everybody whose toes he crushed with his boots. Three millions were due to fifteen thousand depositors, and human nature came out strong.

THE LABOR LEAGUE.

What they Style the Second Declaration of Independence.

(Chicago Times.)

The following are the resolutions adopted at the late meeting of the Chicago workingmen:

Whereas, the two great political parties of the United States, within the past eight or ten years, have failed to legislate in behalf of the working class, and whereas, labor was ordained by divine command, and is the only true source of people's happiness, health and prosperity, and the only sure producer of wealth, power and civilization; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the working people of the city of Chicago and State of Illinois, do hereby repudiate the Republican and Democratic parties; be it further:

Resolved, That we recommend to the industrial classes of the Union, whether agricultural, mechanical or commercial, and all others who sympathize in our views, an immediate organization to promote the general welfare, and shape henceforward the true policy and legislation of the country, basing our action on the following principles and purposes:

1. That we deem the repeal of the resumption act of January 14 1875, remonetization and free coinage of the silver dollar, the perpetuation of the treasury note for all dues and demands.

2. Eight hours the standard by which wages shall be paid.

3. Arbitration committees for the adjustment of disputes between capital and labor.

4. Prohibition of the use of prison labor by private employers.

5. Prohibition of the continuance of manual labor in factories and elsewhere by children under twelve years of age.

6. Liberal application of the funds for educational purposes.

7. Reduction of taxation and economy in all governmental expenses, whether Federal, State or municipal.

8. Abolition of duties on the necessities of life, the burden of which is borne by the poor classes.

9. Opposition to class legislation.

10. The enactment of laws compelling employers to pay their employees on or before the 15th of each month for labor performed in the previous month.

11. The immediate improvement of the water-ways of the State and nation.

12. The reserving of the public lands, the heritage of the people, for the actual settler. Not another acre for railroads and speculators.

13. That evidences of indebtedness, national, as well as personal, be taxed.

14. The establishment of State and national bureaus of labor statistics.

15. The prompt and effective punishment of official defaulters.

16. The removal of unjust technicalities, delays, and discriminations in the administration of justice, and the establishment of a more speedy process for the collection of wages.

17. A return to early principles, by the means of which the people have made a firm refusal to support professional politicians.

The Governors in Philadelphia.

The visit of the Governors to Philadelphia does not seem to have turned out a success. Only seven in all responded to the invitation, and these found themselves more followed about and stared at than complimented. Of course the committee of the exhibitors' association, who have them in charge, have done their best to make their time pass agreeably. They have been through the exhibition buildings, and they have been shown the manufacturing establishments of the city with as much impressment as if they were substantial merchants from the country who had gone to Philadelphia to buy goods. They have seen the mint and bullion in it, and they have seen the mints, and they have also been taken to a dental depot to examine the sets of teeth for sale there to any one who may be wanting in molars or incisors. The business way in which the visiting Governors have been carried along shows that our Philadelphia neighbors, while inviting such distinguished persons to partake of their hospitality, have a keen eye for main chances, which is perfectly right and proper for any thriving, pushing, go-ahead city. Whether the Governors approve of being themselves made a sort of show is another matter.

The endowments or secret rites of Mormonism are a sort of allegory in blank verse, paraphrased from the Scriptures and "Paradise Lost." There are rooms fitted up with scenery adapted to the various scenes of a drama representing the creation of man, his fall, the coming of Christ, and the priesthood of Joseph Smith. In the performance Brigham Young always took the part of Adam, or head of the world, while other leaders represented Jesus, Satan, Michael, and the apostles. Different degrees of the Aaronic and Melchizedek priesthood are conferred, at each stage of which the candidate is required to take oaths of secrecy, and to undergo barbarous penalties should they dare to violate them. They also receive a new name, by which they will be known in the kingdom of God. In this ceremony the women wear a long robe, which is placed on the right shoulder, and flows to the floor; there is an apron of linen, lined with green silk and embroidered with gilt leaves—the nearest approach to the Paradiseal apron that decency could tolerate. The men wear a cap of linen similar to those worn by stone masons or bakers. The ladies' caps are of Swiss muslin, with a veil of the same material, which is said to produce a pretty effect. This is also the costume in which faithful Mormons are prepared for the grave.

In Russia nearly every officer speaks French and German, yet Don Carlos was unable to obtain a command of any kind on account of his not being conversant with the tongue of the common soldier. He remains a mere amateur looker-on, enjoying the privilege of having a royal escort of Cossacks and going wherever he pleases. He was in the very thickest of the battle of Plevna, and joined with his escort the detachment protecting the Russian retreat. He was complimented and embraced by the Czar, but he still remains without anything like an official position in the army.

Hillboro Recorder: The body of Wiley Mitchell was exhumed by the Coroner, Friday, a jury of inquest empaneled, and a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a blow upon the head inflicted by John Wagstaff, late of the county of Person.

The citizens of Edenton held an educational convention last Thursday, and addressed by W. D. Pruden, Aug. M. Moore, Capt. Oct. Coke, Maj. William and other prominent citizens, and preliminary steps taken to organize a school of high grade in that town.

The county Magistrates of Alamance met on Monday, as we learn from the Gleaner, and agreed to establish an Inferior Court for the county with terms—third Monday in May and December. J. L. Scott, Isaac Hall, and D. W. Kurr were elected to hold the court; R. S. Hunter clerk, and E. S. Parker county attorney.

Wilmington Star: We learn from a correspondent at Long Creek, Pender county, that Mr. Johnny P. Montague, son of Patrick Montague, living about two miles from that place, accidentally shot himself on Saturday last while out hunting. Our correspondent says: "It appears that the unfortunate young man stopped for a moment and placed the breech of his gun upon the ground at the same time resting his chin upon the muzzle. In attempting to rest his right foot upon the too he threw it around over the left, when it came in contact with the gun and discharged it. The whole load took effect under his chin, killing him instantly."

The Magistrates of Mecklenburg county, as we learn from the Charlotte Observer, at their meeting on Monday last, determined by a vote of 30 to 17, to establish an Inferior Court for Mecklenburg county, and elected R. P. Waring, H. K. Reed and H. D. Stowe as justices of the Court, C. E. Grier, Attorney (unanimously), and Jno. A. Young, Clerk. The terms of the Inferior Courts are to be held on the second Mondays of October, January, April and July, and continue two weeks at each term unless the business be sooner disposed of. A resolution was adopted to ask the next General Assembly to confer upon this court civil jurisdiction similar to that exercised by the former courts of pleas and quarter sessions.

THE CALIFORNIA ELECTION. Yesterday an election took place in California for members of the lower house of the Legislature, half the State Senate and various county and municipal officers. The question of calling a constitutional convention was also voted upon.

The State Constitution was adopted in 1850, and in 1863 amendments were made respecting the tenure, and mode of electing the Judiciary. The special judicial elections seldom bring out more than half the voters, and there was a strong feeling in favor of appointing the Judges for life, subject to impeachment. While the people generally were in favor of amending the constitution, they were not all agreed upon the method proposed by the Legislature—a convention. Those opposed to the convention plan argued that the Legislature could amend the constitution as well, and thus save the State a heavy bill of costs. The argument against this plan was that the Legislature, limited in its biennial sessions to 120 days, has not sufficient time for the deliberation which should be given to questions of fundamental law.

They also voted upon three proposed amendments to the present constitution—one striking out the word "white" wherever it occurs in limitation of the rights and privileges of citizens, one to change the time of the annual elections from September to November, and one to guard against bribery in elections.

MAYOR LATROBE.

We print elsewhere the communication of an esteemed friend of the NEWS, a gentleman for whose opinions we have a high regard. It is our rule always to admit freely any respectful criticism of our course into our columns. Our correspondent takes exception to our asking for justice to the Baltimore merchants. Notwithstanding our friend's view, we think we were right. No paper has been, or will ever be, more jealous of the rights and dignity of North Carolina than we. But let us be just, too. When the Baltimore Bulletin, in commenting on our law taxing fertilizers, spoke contemptuously of North Carolina as a State where the ground pea crop stood between the people and starvation, we answered it as we thought it deserved—in no mild language. But we did not call upon the merchants to hold a meeting and denounce it, unless, threat of an interdiction upon North Carolina trade. So when Mayor Latrobe, not in a public speech or official communication, but in a private conversation, spoke in slanderous terms of the State, we condemned his impudence and despised his folly.

We should regret to hold any respectable community responsible every time a politician whom, per chance, wire-pulling and ballot-stuffing (and such things exist in Baltimore,) have elevated to office shall utter a vile or an untrue thing. Not one merchant in a thousand in Baltimore has probably heard of Mayor Latrobe's private conversation. The conversation was not printed, we take it, in the Baltimore papers. The city of Baltimore numbers nearly half a million of population and covers several square miles of territory. Its merchants are too sensible a set and without too busy to deem it necessary to run together to disavow every assinine utterance of an office-holder, or every fling of one of their newspapers at some portion of the vast territory whose products go to fill up the measure of their trade. Mayor Latrobe's folly is his own.

We have not forgotten the acts of the people of Baltimore during the war, when many hundreds of poor, ragged Confederate soldiers were clothed, fed and furnished with money by their voluntary contributions. They aided to save the lives of many a Southern lad. We do not presume to judge between the comparative merits of New York and Baltimore. The flow of business is generally settled by the laws of trade. But if the merchants of Baltimore are to be judged by the private opinions of the Mayor who, by the way, owes his election more to ward politicians than to the business men of the city, justice to our sister Southern city demands a suspension of judgment until Colonel Beasley shall have interviewed the Mayor of New York, and see whether his private opinion of us is any better than that of Mayor Latrobe. When the views of the Mayor shall have been brought to the notice of the Baltimore merchants we have no doubt they will take proper steps to disavow his sentiments.

POLITICAL EVENTS THIS MONTH. Political conventions, &c., are to be held during this month as follows:

Thursday, Sept. 6—National Convention of Free Traders, in Saratoga.

Tuesday, Sept. 11—Wisconsin Republican, in Madison; meeting of New York Democratic State Committee, in Albany.

Wednesday, Sept. 12—Massachusetts Prohibitionists, in Worcester; Massachusetts Labor Reformers, in Boston; Pennsylvania Prohibitionists, in Harrisburg.

Thursday, Sept. 13—Massachusetts Democrats, in Worcester.

Wednesday, Sept. 19—New Jersey Republican, in Trenton; New Jersey Democrats, in Trenton; New Jersey Prohibitionists, in Trenton; Pennsylvania Greenbackers, in Williamsport; Kansas Greenbackers, in Wyandotte.

Thursday, Sept. 20—New York Greenbackers, in Buffalo; Maryland Republican, in Baltimore.

Tuesday, Sept. 25—New Jersey Republican, in Trenton.

Wednesday, Sept. 26—New York Republican, in Rochester; National Convention of Representative Colored Men, in Washington; National Prohibition Conference, at Perry Street Methodist Episcopal Church, New York City; Wisconsin Democratic Convention, in Fond du Lac.

The Legislature chosen in California will elect a United States Senator to succeed Aaron A. Sargent (Republican), whose term expires in March, 1879. In the Legislature of 1876-77 the Democrats had a majority of twelve in the Senate and forty-two in the House. Of the twenty Senators holding over, sixteen are Democrats, three Republicans, and one Independent. In order to secure a Republican successor to Senator Sargent, the Republicans must yesterday have recovered a large number of the Districts held during the past four years by the Democrats or Independents. The contest for the Legislature was generally between the Republicans and Democrats, the third party tickets being mostly confined to municipal and county nominations.

The vote of California in past years has been as follows:

Rep. Dem. Total Maj.

1872—Pres'dt. 54,020 40,718 94,738 12,222 R.

1874—Gov't. 31,222 61,569 122,581 43 D.

1876—Pres'dt. 75,299 76,464 151,777 2,164 R.

This was the first general election this fall. Its only importance, in a national point of view, is the election of the members of the Legislature, who will elect a United States Senator. Beyond this little political significance is attached to it.

It is difficult now to define the exact political position of Postmaster General Key. We are reminded of the late Samuel Hillman's advertisement inserted in the old Oxford Examiner. The genial Samuel moved his law office while on a spree; and to indicate the fact of his removal, he published that "he had removed from where he was to where he is, where he may be found when not elsewhere."

Gen. J. M. Leach, lately, when in Raleigh, expressed the confident belief that Hendricks and Ransom would be our next Presidential ticket. It is a little soon probably to speculate as to who the nominees will be, but it is not too soon to see that the Democratic nominees, whoever they may be, will be elected by an overwhelming majority. The foundation stone of the Republican party is sectionalism. It was conceived and brought forth in sectionalism. Its growth threatened war. Its triumph was war. Its life for twelve years past has been the fanning of the passions and prejudices of the war. The success of the Democratic party means peace. With the exception of a small fragment led by the New York Sun, (whose chief editor was Lincoln's Assistant Secretary of War), the Democratic party is the party of reconciliation. As a party, its leaders and followers are solidly massed against sectional agitation and to achieve peace and prosperity for us and our posterity. It is bound to win. It carried the country on the platform of Reconciliation and Reform by a majority of a quarter of a million in the last election. With the same platform it will carry the country in 1880 with an unanimity not seen since the "hard cider and log cabin" campaign of 1840.

POSTMASTER GENERAL KEY was taken into the cabinet because he was a Democrat. He boasted of this in his speech in Charlotte several months ago. He has veered so far round towards the Republican party that it would now be in order for the President to drop him and try another.

YESTERDAY the Pennsylvania Republican Convention met in Harrisburg, and the Massachusetts Independent Greenbackers in Boston.

Platform of the Iowa Democracy.

First. The Democracy of Iowa declare in favor of tariff for revenue only; honest, economic home rule; the supremacy of the civil over the military power; the separation of Church and State; the quality of all citizens before the law; opposition to the granting by the general government of subsidies to corporations without restriction.

Second. The destruction of the industry of labor and the inevitable fruits of vicious laws enacted by the Republican party.

Third. That as the means of relieving the distressed portion of the community and removing the great stringency complained of in business circles, we demand the immediate repeal of the specie resumption act.

Fourth. We denounce as an outrage on the rights of the people the enactment of Republican measures demonizing silver, and demand the passage of a law which shall restore to silver its monetary power.

Fifth. We favor the retention of a greenback currency, and declare against any further contraction, and we favor the substitution of greenbacks for national bank notes.

Sixth. We congratulate the country upon the acceptance by the present administration of the constitutional and pacific policy of local self-government in the States of the South, so long advocated by the Democratic party, and which has brought peace and harmony to that section.

Seventh. In regard to our future financial policy, in the language of our national platform adopted in the New York Convention in 1868, we urge the payment of the public debt of the United States as rapidly as practicable, and all money drawn from the people by taxation, except so much as is requisite or the necessities of the government, economically administered, being honestly applied to such payment when due.

Eighth. Equal taxation of every species of property according to its value.

Ninth. One currency for the government and the people, laborer and officer, holder, pensioner and soldier, producer and the bondholder.

Tenth. The right of a State to regulate railroad corporations having been established by a higher court of the country, we now declare that this right must be exercised with due regard to justice, and as there is no necessary antagonism between the people and these corporations, the common interest of both demands a speedy restoration of the former friendly relations through a just legislation on one side and a cheerful submission thereto on the other.

Eleventh. The rights of capital and labor are equally sacred and alike entitled to legal protection, they have no just cause of quarrel, and the proper relations to each other are adjustable by natural laws, and should not be hampered by legislative interference.

Twelfth. We favor the repeal of the present prohibitory liquor law of this State and the enactment of a judicious and well-regulated license law instead, and the money derived from licenses to go to the common school fund of the State.

September Elections.

The first general election this month will take place in California on Wednesday, the 5th inst., when members of the lower house of the Legislature, half the State Senate and various county and municipal officers will be chosen. The question of calling a constitutional convention will be decided also at this election. The Legislature chosen this month will elect a United States Senator to succeed Aaron A. Sargent (Republican), whose term expires in March, 1879. In the Legislature of 1876-77 the Democrats had a majority of twelve in the Senate and forty-two in the House. Of the twenty Senators holding over, sixteen are Democrats, three Republicans, and one Independent. In order to secure a Republican successor to Senator Sargent, the Republicans must yesterday have recovered a large number of the Districts held during the past four years by the Democrats or Independents. The contest for the Legislature was generally between the Republicans and Democrats, the third party tickets being mostly confined to municipal and county nominations.

The vote of California in past years has been as follows:

1876—Pres'dt. 75,299 76,464 151,777 2,164 R.

This was the first general election this fall. Its only importance, in a national point of view, is the election of the members of the Legislature, who will elect a United States Senator. Beyond this little political significance is attached to it.

Enoch Arden Redivivus—A Romance in Real Life.

(Charlotte Observer.)

A romantic incident has been developed in the neighboring county, Cabarrus. About seven years ago one William Earnhardt, a farmer of the county named, a man with a wife and perhaps children, became enamored of another woman, and with her eloped. Time went on, nothing was heard of him. Mrs. Earnhardt, a very excellent woman, busied alone the waves of adversity, and by dint of hard work and close economy, made a support for herself and family. Four years passed away, and a neighbor, Mr. Geo. Misenheimer, a farmer well-to-do in the world paid his addresses to Mrs. Earnhardt. Meantime she had received news of the death of her husband, and when Mr. Misenheimer proposed to her, three years ago, she accepted him and their nuptials were duly celebrated.

They have lived happily together, raising a young family; and everything was lovely until a week or two ago when Mr. Misenheimer, who should step upon the scene but Earnhardt. There he was, and he demanded his wife. The case was a perplexing one, and what to do nobody knew. In his perplexity, Misenheimer applied to a lawyer in this city for legal advice. The attorney told him he was illegally married; that in a case of absence of husband or wife the law, after seven years, supposed death and allowed the marriage of the party deserted; but that in this case Earnhardt, having been absent but four years when his wife married, he was entitled to her again as against Misenheimer.

The lawyer advised further that the woman apply for a divorce from Earnhardt, and that she should be re-married. But in the meantime it would be interesting to know who is in possession of the wife.

DAILY NEWS.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1877.

THE WEEKLY NEWS is the best weekly paper published in North Carolina. It is only one dollar per year, postage paid, contains 52 columns of plain printed news from every section of the State, and is a valuable advertisement. ALWAYS CASH.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

The rumor that Osman Pasha is Marshal Bazaine is pronounced absurd. Osman is well known, to those who know that he is not Bazaine.

President Hayes has been invited to be present at the fair of the Virginia State Agricultural Society, Gov. Hampton, of South Carolina, is to be the orator.

Six New York custom-house inspectors have been caught taking bribes. It did not impair their social standing, and the undetected are glad that only six were caught.

The army worm has appeared in large number in De Soto county, Mississippi; Fayette county, Tennessee, and Lee county, Arkansas, and serious damage to cotton is apprehended.

There is a woman at Eureka, California, who a dozen years ago was married in a dress costing two thousand dollars. Now she takes in washing, to support a drunken husband and three pairs of trunks.

A young Kentuckian, who was struck on the knee by a base-ball several months ago, has died from the effects, after severe suffering. The awful warning comes late in the season, but it may be of use yet.

The eight Democratic members of Congress from Illinois will support Morrison for Speaker at the outset, but if his name is withdrawn, as they seem to think it will be, two will go to Haudall and six to Saylor.

Hartman, of Pennsylvania, has not yet been able to fill up the two regiments of "three months' volunteers" which he needs to preserve the peace in the State. He says that plenty of tramps would enlist but that he does not want tramps.

The Augusta Journal says that a widow's claim for a State pension in Maine asserted that her late husband a soldier, "was detached to guard a house in the night time, and while lying on the ground was moonstruck in his eyes, which caused his death."

There is now a chance that in a year or two the exact truth about the Black Hills mineral deposits may be ascertained. At present, according to the Denver News, every road leading out of the hills is lined with men, teams, and tramps, making their way back to civilization.

The Vicksburg (Miss.) Herald mentions a negro to be hanged for stealing a hog, and says that the condemned man kept the prisoner confined in his house, and would not doubt have hanged him if the white people had not interfered to prevent it.

The United States Charge d'Affaires to Switzerland has transmitted to the Department of State a letter from the Swiss Federal Council announcing the accession of the Danish colonies of Greenland, St. Thomas and St. Jean, to the international postal treaty, and their entrance into the postal union.

A young San Franciscan lover offered to pay a police justice $10 and vote for him at the next election if the worthy magistrate would go with him and be introduced to his (the lover's) sweetheart. He wished to impress her and her family with a realizing sense of his familiarity with the great ones of the earth.

The New York Express makes up a State ticket for the New York and Vermont Express, which embraces the selection of Governor Beach for Secretary of State, General McClellan for State Engineer, Frederick P. Olcott, present official, for Controller, and "the utmost care should be exercised in the selection of a candidate for Attorney General."

Mr. C. S. Caldwell, an Australian, has just written a book to prove that Sir Walter Raleigh was the author of Shakespeare's Sonnets. The London Academy thereupon "trusts for the sake of the world that there is nothing special in the soil of America and of Australia which fertilizes the germs of intellectual hobbies."

The board of managers of the Lee Memorial Association at Richmond, Va., have extended the time for receiving models for the proposed Lee monument to the 1st of November. Four models have already been received, and it has been decided not to allow them to be seen until the committee meets in November next to make the award.

The United States deputy marshal at Portsmouth, N. H., on Saturday attached the engine on the Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway railroad, which were previously attached by the marshal. The last writ is in favor of the Eastern railroad. The same keepers were retained in charge. This action will cause another conflict of authority.

It is rumored that steps will be taken at the coming session of Congress for the impeachment of Associate Justice Bradley of the Supreme Court. The Bradley of the matter in hand charge that he was unduly influenced pending his action as a member of the Electoral Commission. It is hardly probable that the movement will prove to be a success, but it is said that a special committee of investigation will be asked for and the charges thoroughly sifted.

The total of the gifts to the Holy Father is 16,475,381 francs. His Holiness will pay four millions of it into the funds of the Holy See, four millions to present and former servants and soldiers who have remained faithful to the Pope, and their families; four million to restoring monumental churches, and in executing works of recognition and charity serving at the same time to encourage art and industry; the balance of 4,476,381 francs will be distributed in subsidies to charitable institutions.

A call has been issued for a "Congress" of Illinois woman in Chicago, Oct. 4 and 5. Among the subjects announced for discussion are: Home protection, the Business Woman, the Town Caterer, Women's Clubs, Woman as Conversers, Household and Decorative Art, How to simplify Housekeeping, the Available Means of improvement to Women in Rural Neighborhoods, the Domestic Problem, How to Secure Sensible Social Entertainments, Women on School Boards and on Boards of Charity, and Industrial School for Girls.

My Store on Fayetteville Street will be closed from FRIDAY NEXT, SEPTEMBER 7th at 6 o'clock p. m. until SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 8th at 6 o'clock p. m. It being the Festival of the Hebrew New Year. I therefore request that you will send in your orders for groceries before the hour designated.

Very Respectfully,
M. GHAUSMAN.

DAILY NEWS.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1877.

The City.

THE RALEIGH NEWS is the oldest daily newspaper in Raleigh, and has the largest circulation in North Carolina.

THE WEEKLY NEWS has the largest circulation in North Carolina, and is the most valuable medium of advertising for a strictly "farmers' trade."

J. W. MYATT—Commissioner of Agriculture.
J. W. MYATT—Commissioner of Agriculture.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The city was dry of locals yesterday.

A. H. Caphart, Esq., was chosen chairman of the Greenville county inferior court.

There will be a meeting of the Raleigh Light Infantry, N. C. S. O., to-night for drill.

Jim Henderson, an old colored man who kept a colored boarding house near the N. C. depot, died yesterday.

A correspondent writing from Chapel Hill yesterday says, "We have about 70 new students and still they come."

"Why is the nine of diamonds called the curse of Scotland? There is a Scottish legend on the subject but we have forgot what it is."

"I am very warm," said a young lady to her partner, at a hop recently. "Do you wear flannels?" asked her cavalier, with tender interest, in response.

The county Commissioners held an adjourned session yesterday and were engaged for most of the day on the common school arrangements. They meet again to-day.

A dispatch was received here last night that Levy's slaves at Enfield, were destroyed by fire yesterday. No particulars, but as the dispatch was to the Home Fire Company, we presume they have had a risk on them.

They now have preaching twice a day at the meeting of the Baptist Church—at 4 p. m. every day, and at 8 p. m. Rev. A. C. Dixon will preach, and those who have heard him say he is a good preacher.

We are requested to notice that there will be a meeting of the Raleigh Amateur Cornet Band at the band room (Thurs.) evening at 8 o'clock. All members are earnestly invited to be present.

The colored members of the St. Paul's A. M. E. Church held a fair and festival at Metropolitan Hall last night, the object being to raise funds to pay for a new organ purchased for the church. The entertainment will be continued to-night.

The News office is indebted to Dr. H. E. T. Manning, Secretary of the Roanoke and Tar River Agricultural Association, for a complimentary ticket to the Fair at Weldon, October 23d—30th. The ticket has been carefully laid away for use on the occasion.

We publish among our new advertisements this morning the announcement of Messrs Cooke & Wainwright, grocers and general commission merchants. Farmers and country dealers will consult their interests by forming the acquaintance of this firm. A word to the wise is sufficient.

We present the advertisement of Messrs. Griggs Whitehurst & Co., of Norfolk Va. This house is the pioneer dealer in butter direct from the dairies in Broome and Cortland counties New York. Their butter is shipped in refrigerator cars, to New York; and thence in refrigerator by steamer to Norfolk. They sell at New York prices.

A rare treat of fine music is presented to the people of Norfolk twice a week at the summer garden of Joseph Klepper. This is a popular resort to the people who are drawn there by the excellent music and cool beer. The buildings are fitted up in four apartments and are in good taste. The grand concert given Tuesday and Wednesday evening fills the different apartments with eager listeners. See his advertisement.

Messrs. F. W. Godwin & Co., of Norfolk Va., are the manufacturers of the Godwin agricultural portable engine, and all descriptions of machinery. They make a specialty of the agricultural engine, to which they claim there is none superior in the United States, both for durability and cheapness, and that it is from 30 to 50 per cent cheaper than any other. With this engine insurance is as cheap in N. C. and Va. as horse or water-power. One of the special points of this engine is the patent spark reservoir, every spark being caught in the reservoir. See their advertisement.

Lost—A Valuable Walking Cane. Colonel W. H. H. Tucker when in Europe a year or two ago, brought a walking cane to each of his city pastors. The one he gave Dr. Pritchard was bought in Vienna, and was of cinnamon wood. Dr. Pritchard has lost this cane, which he values very highly. It is of a bright color, full of knots, and has a number of light colored places on it, made by shaving off pieces of the bark. It might be that the Doctor would be willing to apiece any young man or woman who should restore his cane to him, for nothing.

Tin Roofing. Tinware and sheet iron work, manufactured and repaired. We conduct the most extensive shop in the State. Roofing and job work of all kinds executed at short notice. We employ none but most skillful workmen and use none but best material. Julius Lewis & Co., Hardware merchants Raleigh, N. C.

Gents' hair hose, 3 pair for 25 cents; ladies' white hose, 3 pair for 25 cents; Ballingnan hose, brown or white, 15 cents a pair; Misses white gloves, 10 cents a pair, worth 25 cents, and a lot of handkerchiefs, 60 cents a dozen, at Woolcott's Open Front Store.

I am still selling the Cotton King Cook stove, I have sold over two thousand of them and they have given more general satisfaction than any other stove sold. They are larger than any other and sold with a more complete set of fixtures. J. C. Brewster, Holkman Building, Fayetteville St.

Meeting of the N. C. Dental Association.

In addition to the proceedings of Tuesday afternoon, reported in the News yesterday morning, it should have been mentioned that Drs. Hoffman and Bland were appointed on the executive committee; and Dr. D. E. Everett was appointed Treasurer, pro tem, in place of Dr. Crawford, reported sick and unable to attend.

Dr. E. Floyd, of Fayetteville, Dr. E. W. Owen, of Oxford, and Dr. J. E. Matthews, of Kennesawville, were, on appointment, duly elected members of the Association.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 5.

The Association met at 9 o'clock, Dr. V. E. Turner presiding. Dr. D. W. Harris, of Pittsburg, Dr. R. T. Couch, of Oxford, and Dr. H. W. Robinson, of Wadesboro, applied for admission to membership in the Association and were duly elected thereto.

Drs. J. W. Hunter and R. H. Jones appeared in their seats this morning. Reports of committees were called for. Dr. D. E. Everett and Dr. H. W. Jones submitted a report on Operative Dentistry, and Drs. E. L. Hunter and W. H. Hoffman, one on Mechanical Dentistry.

Dr. J. W. Hunter received, adopted and the committees discharged. Dr. E. L. Hunter then read an interesting paper on "Contour filling vs. Permanent Separation."

The Association then adjourned to 3 p. m.

3 O'CLOCK, P. M.

The Association was called to order by the President, the following members being present: The President, J. W. Hunter, E. L. Hunter, W. H. Hoffman, J. Simpson, M. A. Bland, D. A. Robertson, E. Floyd, R. F. Couch, H. W. Robinson, and D. E. Everett.

Dr. J. W. Hunter then read a paper on "Local Societies," and also a paper on "Dental Hygiene." Both of which were listened to with interest by the Association, and received with a vote of thanks.

On motion the Association then went into the election of officers for the ensuing year. The voting was by ballot and resulted as follows:

Dr. J. W. Hunter, Salem, President. Dr. E. L. Hunter, Enfield, 1st Vice Pres. Dr. D. A. Robertson, Fayetteville, 2nd Vice-President.

Dr. W. H. Hoffman, Charlotte, Sec'y. Dr. J. H. Crawford, Raleigh, Treas'r. The Association then adjourned to 9 o'clock this morning.

Fire.

The alarm of fire was sounded yesterday afternoon between three and four o'clock, which proceeded from the burning of a kitchen on the lot of Mr. W. J. Hill, on Henderson street, near the M. E. Church. It was entirely consumed with all the cooking utensils, belonging to Mrs. Rebecca Horton, who occupied the premises, and also the bedding, wearing apparel, etc., belonging to an old colored woman, named Caroline Taylor, who lived in one room of the building.

All the fire companies were promptly on the spot, but for want of water could render no assistance in putting out the fire, except the colored bucket company, who saved the dwelling by throwing on water obtained from a well, and putting wet blankets on it; and the Hook and Ladder Company, which dragged down the Fair at Weldon, October 23d—30th. The ticket has been carefully laid away for use on the occasion.

The origin of the fire is unknown. A little colored girl saw the bed in the back room on fire and gave the alarm, but before assistance arrived the flames had seized the entire building. No insurance.

A Pretty Procession.

If the Masons, Odd Fellows, Good Templars, or some other society were to turn out on the streets in procession, there would be a crowd looking on and following them as they marched along. And yet there is a more interesting and beautiful spectacle to be seen on Fayetteville street five days in the week, about three o'clock, p. m., which attracts but little attention. We allude to the sight of over a hundred little girls from six to ten or twelve years old, brightening the side-walks as they come out from the graded school, one form after another as they are dismissed. Watch for their appearance and say if it is not a sight worth looking at.

Two More New Bales.

Two bales of cotton of the new crop, from Johnston county was received here yesterday and bought by our neighbor, W. A. Myatt, at 11 cents per pound. The two bales weighed 1,000 lbs, graded middling, and is of good staple.

Get The Best.

Subscribe to the Raleigh News. Daily $5 per annum, Weekly $1.00 per annum.

A lovely landscape all dotted over with unsightly buildings, is not more unpleasant to the sight than is a human face disfigured with bumps and pimples, those prime evidences of impurity of the blood. Dr. Bull's Blood Mixture will remove all such disfigurements promptly.

W. A. Myatt.

We invite attention to the announcement of Mr. W. A. Myatt among our new advertisements. The country merchant or farmer who wishes to get first class treatment and a superior quality of goods at the lowest market prices is advised to call on Mr. Myatt. With ample capital and a thorough knowledge of his business, he buys at the lowest figures and is able to offer inducements to those who deal with him. We can recommend him as an energetic driver of merchandise of unquestioned business integrity, polite and agreeable in manner and constantly on the qui vive to please his patrons.

A Lady the First to Settle.

The first tax payer in Wake county to pay taxes for the present year, is Mrs. L. E. Stephenson of Swift Creek township. Sheriff Nowell thinks if the women were entrusted with the management of domestic financial matters he should have little trouble in collecting his taxes in good time. Then burrah! for the women generally and for Mrs. Stephenson particularly, and for Swift Creek township altogether; the section of hospitality and sociable pica-nics.

Personal.

Mr. J. S. Carr, prominent in tobacco circles is in the city and registered at the Yarbrough House.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston of the late Confederate army was in the city yesterday, stopping at the Osborne House. He arrived Tuesday night and departed last night.

Drs. J. W. Hunter, Salem, R. H. Jones Bethania, and Mr. W. Little, of Wadesboro are also in the city, attending the convention of the Dental Association.

Mayor's Court.

Susan Smith had Artelia Dunn haul up on a charge of assault committed by her last Sunday during the excursion to Ridgeway, but an investigation showed that Susan was as much to blame as the other, both in the language of the other, having "fought willingly," so his Honor construed the matter into an affray and required each to give bond in $50 to appear at next term of the criminal court.

Congress.

Will meet soon. Send in your subscriptions to the News.

Letter from Carthage.

(Special correspondence of News.)

CARTHAGE, N. C., Sept. 3, 1877.

To the Editor of the News:

SIR—Moore Superior Court has been in session for one week and will probably consume the whole of the month. The only case tried last week of any general interest was an important will case, involving some questions in regard to the draining of swamp lands, which I know will concern some of your subscribers in Eastern Carolina.

K. M. C. Williamson, the owner of a large and valuable mill in Cumberland county, brought suit against the Flat Swamp Canal Company, a corporation chartered to drain the Flat Swamp. The suit was removed to Moore county, and has been once to the Supreme Court. Williamson alleges that two creeks enter the Flat Swamp, 8 miles above his mill, and flow through it in a well defined channel, to his mill, which waters the defendant diverted by canal which turned the two creeks into Cape Fear River above the swamp. The defendant contended that the waters of the two creeks, above the swamp, were swamp and had no channel, and that therefore the plaintiff had no right to their water, but the defendant insisted that even if this were not so, yet, the mill must have been originally built with notice that the swamp would be drained, as it has been, and the mill damaged, and so that it was built in folly. Judge Seymour, who, by the way, is giving universal satisfaction as a polite gentleman and a thorough, and accomplished lawyer, held with the plaintiff, that the swamp should have been drained down the channel, if there was a channel, and that the defendant was liable if he diverted from plaintiff's mill, any water reaching it through such channel, having well-defined sides or banks, whether flowing through a swamp or not. After a hot contest of three days the jury found for the plaintiff, who was represented by Messrs. Robbins, Hindsdale & Worthy and Ray. The defendant, by its attorneys, Messrs. MacRae & Broadfoot, appealed to the Supreme Court.

There are a large number of lawyers in attendance on the court from Randolph, Chatham, Harnett, Cumberland, Wake, Stanly and Montgomery counties.

The crops throughout the county are fine. One or two more good rains, and they are safe.

It is a shame that Carthage should not have a daily mail from Raleigh. Our newspaper men are interested in this, because our daily editions lose their value by coming two at a time. I understand that there is a daily mail to Sanford, which is only 20 miles from here. Why should we not have a daily mail from this point? Cannot you do something by "stirring the matter?"

More anon, CARTHAGE.

"Wives as they Were." Susan R. Anthony may appeal to women to insist upon having equal rights and privileges with men, but she must not become impatient, or forget that "large bodies move slowly," but a few years more will see little better than slaves, while to-day wealth and science vie with each other in doing wrong, and to better her condition. Many diseases that have hitherto cursed her existence are by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription readily cured. Her property in most of the States is now secured, her husband's debts are paid, and as water never rests until it finds its level, so the rights of woman will, if properly gained, and every difference equitably adjusted.
